

Roosevelt

Elk Festival

in the
Quinault Rain Forest
Saturday, March 25, 2006

The Lake Quinault Community is teaming up with the Washington State Dept. of Fish and Wildlife to promote "Watchable Wildlife" by hosting the Quinault Rain Forest Roosevelt Elk Festival.

The Festival Includes:

- Friday evening 7-9pm "Wine and Cheese Social" hosted by the Lake Quinault Lodge.
- Breakfast Saturday morning - Lake Quinault Lodge
- Two guided interpretive Roosevelt Elk viewing tours in the Quinault Rain Forest
- Lectures & information on big game habitat, conservation, management, nutrition, history & education
- Guided interpretive hiking tours in the Quinault Rain Forest
- Museum tours
- Guided naturalist & photography trips in the Quinault Rain Forest
- Special programs for kids
- Buffet banquet dinner and dessert - Lake Quinault Lodge
- Vendor booths, raffle drawings, door prizes, giveaways

Most Festival activities take place on Saturday.

Registration $35.00 for Adults, $15.00 Children 8-17
Children 7 and under are free.

Participants may register now by calling the Lake Quinault Lodge. Registration will also be available Saturday morning at the Lake Quinault Lodge during the breakfast hour from 6:30-7:30 am prior to the first Elk Tour. "Bull Bucks" will also be included in the participant's welcome packets, redeemable at the Quinault Mercantile across the street from the Lake Quinault Lodge.

For more info. go to www.QuinaultRainForest.com

Click on "Festivals" to learn more about this exciting event. A detailed festival agenda and a list of the lodging providers is also available on the website so participants may reserve lodging in advance.